The Copyright Act, 1957, which falls under the purview of the Ministry of Human Resource Development contains, inter alia, legal provisions regarding copyright in cinematograph films and music. The responsibility for dealing with offences under the Copyright Act rests with the police authorities of the State Governments and Union Territory Administrations. Copyright Enforcement cells have been set up in most States/UT Administrations headed by a senior police officer to deal with such offences.

Apart from this, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting has taken several steps to fight piracy in the film sector like steps taken to sensitize the public through a film on piracy, an effort to sensitize police officers by initiating a training course for them about copyright issues in the entertainment sector, by taking up the case for exemption of CDs from excise duty in a bid to reduce the price gap between genuine and pirated products, making amendment in the Cable Television Networks Regulation Act prohibiting the cable operator from showing programmes without proper license from the copyright holder etc. Such efforts are made on a continuous basis.

(b) and (c) In the recently concluded 25th State Information Ministers' Conference (SIMCON) discussions were held, inter alia, on the issue of piracy. High entertainment tax rates have been recognized as one of the factors leading to piracy in the film sector and during the Conference, there was consensus on the need to bring down the ceiling on entertainment tax levels to 25-30%.
